OUT OF THE GLOOM

Many a Gloomy Countenance in Norway
Now Lightens With Happiness
A bad back makes you gloomy.
Can't be happy with continued back-ache.
The aches and pains of a bad back are frequently due to weak kidneys.
Doan's Pills are recommended for weak kidneys. Ask your neighbor.
So Norway citizens testify.

Mrs. Orville Palmer, Lower Main St., Norway, says: "I was suffering from disordered kidneys. My back was painful and it made me restless at night. I was dizzy and everything seemed to turn around in the room. My kidneys didn't act regularly. Doan's Pills had been used in the family with benefit so I decided to go to Clark's Drug Store and get a supply. After using two boxes, I was all right, so I gladly recommend Doan's."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Palmer had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Johns-Manville Asbestos

Fire-fighting men tell you that their greatest ally is not so much a device to put fires out but rather a material that prevents fire. Such is Johns-Manville Asbestos Roofing—either in shingle or roll form.

It is not only fire-safe, but it is beautiful, weather-tight and permanent! Yet with all these fine roofing qualities, it is surprisingly low in cost—hardly more than ordinary rag-felt roofing.

While we recommend Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingles or Roll Roofing for practically every purpose, we also carry all grades of roofing to that we can meet your price requirements.

Oxford 1430, Norway Pick-Ups 1396
An accommodation team picked up on short notice was overpowered by a group of bowlers from Oxford in a recent contest at Parris' Alleys. Thirty-four pins separated the teams at the end of the third string.
Oxford landed hard in the opening chapter when Breton swept the pit at 121, with Baxter securing 114 in the same string. Baxter captured the highest mark for the evening, "The Boss" on the Norway sheet closed highest for his team and second in the match, with Breton second highest for Oxford.
Thelma Tracy of Norway, holder of one of the high records at the alley for ladies, bowled consistently and ran up a tally of 296. She finished only eight pins behind the leader of her team and stood fourth in the match. She is considered unusually clever and enjoys the sport.

Word was received early this week that Llewellyn E. Bennett passed away at his home in Berwick, Saturday evening. His age was 75 years. The deceased was a brother of the late Albert T. Bennett of Norway and resided here until about forty years ago. He had lived in Berwick many years where the funeral and burial was held.

Willard H. Buck: "You talk in the paper of prosperous Norway. You are not there as you were in the past. You talk that way."

A doctor: "Honey is bitter to people with the jaundice. If your disposition is jaundiced, everything in the world is bitter. Better straighten out your disposition before you start to straighten out the world."

EDITOR, AUTHOR AND LECTURER VISITS HOME TOWN

Don C. Seitz of the New York World was here for a few days calling on friends and looking over his holdings. He recently sold his lake shore property at the head of the lake.

Cedarbrook is to be enlarged by an addition of five more sleeping rooms and an expansion of the dining room. The lumber for this enlargement will be cut from the farm and Ernest Hutchins will soon get busy with it. There has been a shortage of room for summer business for some years past. This is to be remedied in a small way.

Ordway Grove at the head of the village was inspected. These stately pines, ripe for the harvest, are not to be cut. "I'll let time, storm and tempest attend to those giant trees; they protect the village from the fury of the north-west winds and look good to me and everyone who lives among skyscrapers. I know you folks don't appreciate them, but I do and there are visitors who do. I'll stack 'em against time and let 'em remain and pay tax on them as a monument of my—well—sentimental foolishness of long ago."

Summit Springs property in Harrison was inspected. Here there are many acres and water equal to any in the world, and a view unsurpassed. This, too, perhaps is held as a childish whim and a play thing visited semi-occasionally.

Mr. Seitz left town Tuesday morning to deliver an address at Rowdoin College that evening. This is the college that conferred degrees on him a few years ago.

Scott Palmer and Carl Foss have 10,000 (more or less) shiners caged in the stream near the Central Maine Power Co. power house. Ice fishing is approaching and live bait will become a necessity.

Our Stoneham reporter: "Yes, Mr. Kelso got a fine and costly of $46.00 for shooting a big salmon in Mill Brook last month. Officer Meserve saw him do the shooting and landing of the fish and nabbed him red handed. The warden was offered big money to let up, but he did not let go. The only excuse for such lawlessness must be the love of killing."

Millettville and Crockett Ridge

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kneeland of Waterford are stopping with their daughter, Mrs. Fred Lovejoy, and sharing in the joy of another new baby, a little son. A name quite good enough hasn't been found as yet. Both mother and baby are doing well.

Mrs. Rust Jackson is enjoying her annual vacation with Mr. and Mrs. James Mitchell in Milton, Mass. Her mother, Mrs. Beck, is keeping house for her and anxiously waiting for her time to come to get back to Massachusetts and New York where she can go about and see life without driving 4 1/2 miles over precarious roads here in Norway. She has enjoyed her summer on the farm very much and likes now to watch the huge flocks of sheep wander about the place but finds the shut-off from the village in the winter too lonely. She will visit her son in Albany, N. Y., and relatives and friends in Massachusetts.

There were four community and family parties on Thanksgiving here; Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding Abbott entertained 23. There were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jackson and family, Mrs. Levi Richardson and six children, Mrs. Will Young and two children and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Morrill.

Across the woods there was a happy gathering of Nathan Noble and his children and Grandpa Melie and Grandma Emma Dunham.

In Millettville Mr. and Mrs. Frank Millett entertained Mr. and Mrs. Harry Millett and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Patch of West Paris and their daughter, Mary Elizabeth. In the afternoon other relatives and friends called swelling the number to 20.

At the Jackson farm, Mr. and Mrs. Rust Jackson entertained with her mother, Mrs. Beck, her daughter, Doris Bradlee from Nason Institute, Springvale, Mr. and Mrs. Sol Jackson and daughter, Eva Marion, and niece, Marion Littlefield from Bates College.

Bradlee Willis spent his second Thanksgiving in 22 years away from home. This time he is in Cuba with the U. S. S. Raleigh. He has been in Europe twice in Greenland and Iceland with the World Fliers, all about the Atlantic waters and now is in Cuba but writes that Norway will look pretty good to him if he can only make it for Christmas.

The rain is taking off the snow and people are still using automobiles and wagons.

Granville Pushard is working for S. I. and R. Jackson.

Virgil and Charlie Herrick are cutting wood and boarding at G. S. Westleigh's.

Merton Berry, who works in the butter factory at South Waterford, called on friends in this vicinity last week.

Willard Berry and friend called at Harry Millett's Sunday.

Phoretta Noble is working for Mrs. Fred Lovejoy.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Kneeland are stopping for a few weeks at Fred Lovejoy's. Mrs. Kneeland is caring for her daughter, Mrs. Lovejoy, who has a young son.

Some of the neighbors and the teacher have kalsomined the walls and ceiling of the schoolhouse and otherwise improved and brightened the room.

SAVE SPRUCE AND FIR TREES

Shall our spruce and fir trees be cut for Christmas? This is a question which interests many a man who lives in northern New England. The spruce tree is of slow growth, and it takes many years to bring it to marketable condition as lumber. But when it attains that size it is valuable, not only for building purposes, but for the paper makers. The statement is made, and we have no reason to doubt it, that lumber in this country is growing only one fourth as fast as it is being used. This will bring a great scarcity within the life of many of us. The small spruce tree is ideal for Christmas festivities, but it takes ten or more years to make a not very large tree, and the money received for it is hardly commensurate with the value of the land on which it grows and of the probability of lumber in the future. It would seem that some other device could take the place of the tree at the holiday season, and in that way this valuable lumber be saved for future generations.—T. J. Franklin, N. H.

FARM BUREAU MEMBERSHIP

CAMPAIGN IN OXFORD COUNTY

While the Farm Bureau membership campaign has begun in Oxford County, enrollment is progressing rapidly. Thus far the campaign in the men's division has started in only 14 communities out of 24 organized. The enrollment at the time of the annual campaign was over 200 men. In the women's division the membership campaign has not started in as many communities, yet it is progressing very well.

In the men's division, Norway ranks highest with a total enrollment of 49 men to date—five more than the enrollment last year. The membership bids fair to go around 60 in Norway in the men's division this year. This splendid showing is due to a large measure to the excellent soliciting work of Arthur H. Holman, who secured 22 members in one day. Fine work has also been done by Fred Dunn and W. H. Walker. Norway is a live Farm Bureau and Extension community and has a committee that are hustlers.

The campaign in the women's division in most of the communities will start next week.

Hiram ranks second with 75 per cent. of its last year's membership reached. R. N. Lowell, community chairman, secured 16 members in one day. L. H. McCarrison secured eight. Hiram will exceed its 1924 membership this year.

Roxbury ranks high in the number of members secured to date. P. R. Taylor with 13 to his credit with the statement that the campaign has not been completed. Yet they have over 60 per cent. of their last year's membership to date.

Mrs. Marcia Binford, chairman of the women's division reports that they are sure to equal last year's enrollment in spite of the fact that five moved away. Yet she secured five new members to take their places. She is doing the entire soliciting this year. Roxbury has been an outstanding community in Farm Bureau work. It is the only community in the county where the women's division held all of its meetings that were planned at the time of the planning meeting. This certainly shows spirit and team work in view of the fact that they have been alone without a Home Demonstration Agent.

E. A. Barker, Bethel, has secured 18 men members to date with more to be added.

East Bethel ranks high with 70 per cent. of its 1924 men's membership to date. Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Has-tings have done fine work in the soliciting. East Bethel women have renewed 81 per cent. of its 1924 membership to date. This community shows fine spirit among its members and ranks the highest of any community in per cent. of men's division.

Woodstock is another community where the women have made fine progress with their campaign and is not half completed. They have secured 50 per cent. of their last year's membership to date.

South Paris, while all solicitors have not reported, have secured 50 per cent. of its 1924 membership to date. The next week will see a big increase in the total number of members secured.

ALBANY

Hunt's Corner and Vicinity

The Circle met Thursday evening to the number of about fifty, which, considering the bad roads, was a good attendance. Mrs. Ives arrived in time for supper. After an hour or so of friendly social intercourse, all went into the church and sang several hymns and listened to an impressive sermon by Mrs. Ives. Her text was taken from Luke 7:47. She spoke of Christ's deep love for the sinner, and of the forgiven woman who had but one thought, that of showing her love by service. That we too had been forgiven much, and that we give our lives in service, especially in the humble every day duties that each day brings us. When the roads and weather have permitted, the Sunday School has been well attended. Last Sunday twenty little children were present, also a class of older people. Mrs. Ives expects to be with us the evening of Dec. 26 and expects to hold a service some evening, once in two weeks, through the winter months.

Round Mt. Grange

Round Mountain Grange met at their hall for an all day meeting, Dec. 6, with Worthy Master Leon Kimball in chair. After the usual business, the third and fourth degrees were conferred on four candidates, after which all enjoyed a bountiful harvest dinner.

The Worthy Master called the meeting to order and a rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. A. E. K. Grover for the gift of a picture taken when Bethel Grange held its fiftieth anniversary. It is a very pleasing gift for we not only have before us a likeness of our Bethel Brothers and Sisters, but many of our own grange members. Another rising vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Ives, Mr. and Mrs. Upson and Mr. and Mrs. Edwards, Brother Roy Wardwell and all those who so generously assisted in the lighting of our hall. Officers were elected for the proceeding year, which were as follows:

Master—Leon J. Kimball.
Cresser—Allen Cummings.
Lecturer—Mabel Beckler.
Steward—Calvert Fullerton.
Asst. Steward—Jack Stevens.
Chaplain—Lena Bruce.
Treasurer—W. L. Becker.
Secretary—Evelyn Wardwell.
Gate Keeper—Edward Lapham.
Ceres—Ruth Kimball.
Flora—Ethel Fullerton.
Pomona—Florence Lapham.
Lady Asst.—Adela Cummings.

Worthy Master Kimball expressed the feelings of all when he said he was very glad to have Sister Bruce back in her chair, after a painful illness of several months. The meeting was closed in form.

The Norway Advertiser makes a good Christmas present—send it to some friend $1.50 per year.

DON SEITZ'S LATEST BOOK

"Joseph Pulsifer, His Life and Letters," has been received. It was collected, put together and written by Don C. Seitz of the World and published by Simon & Schuster of New York.

The story is told in a little less than 500 pages and contains many full page pictures. Price $5.00, plus cost of delivery.

Mr. Seitz, the author, has been connected with the World for the past 30 years, growing up with it as it were. Eighteen of those years he was business manager and necessarily in close touch with its owner, Mr. Pulitzer. He personally knows whereof he writes. The story is modestly and interestingly told. It's easy reading even to those who know nothing of the workings of a great newspaper.

A TRIBUTE TO MR AND MRS. J. A. KIMBALL

On Their Fifty-Second Wedding Anniversary

A murmuring sound came over the hills,
It's harmony sweet made many hearts thrill.
An echoing cadence they long ago heard,
Was wafted to them like the trill of a bird.
'Twas wedding bells chime as they swung to and fro,
We must here tonight in the Golden afterglow,
For borne on the breeze of a November morn,
To busy mart, vale, hamlet and town,
The glad news came on this morning so bright
That Brother and Sister Kimball held open house tonight.
With their children and grandchildren a welcome to give,
To neighbors and friends among them all live,
And to those who are far from the rays of
their light,
What a blessed occasion is this wedding night!
We would remember the dear friends of yore,
Tho we do not see them, they've just passed
the door,
And bid us rejoice as invisible hands,
Reach out to caress from the "Borderland."
The milestones they've passed with firm faith
in God,
Count many on life's path, that these dear
friends have trod,
But, what joy now is theirs, the circle unbroken,
They are here tonight to offer a token
Of thankfulness, love and good will to each,
In hand clasp, smile and welcoming speech.
A record it is, two years past the mark,
That gives the name "Golden" to their love
laden bark,
The "silver" radiance as the years come and go,
Has a Luna like light in its soft, luminous
glow,
And this zenith of happiness of which we are a part,
Gives unspeakable joy, and bids us take heart,
Ready sympathy, helping hands to fraternali-
ties true,
And the "Star of Hope" shining for them as in 1872.
(In a vision all this as brought to our view,
By the old, old story which to them is ever new.)
So this rhyme has no merit to wear laurels
green,
'Tis but a reflection of the beautiful sheen
That shone on their path in the long time ago,
We leave them in their "Aura" of soft luminous glow.

LIFE'S MIRROR

There are loyal hearts, there are spirits brave,
There are souls that are pure and true;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.
Give love, and love to your life will flow,
A strength in your utmost need;
Have faith and a score of hearts will show
Their faith in your work and deed.
Give truth, and your gift will be paid in kind;
And honor will honor merit,
And the smile which is sweet will surely find
A smile that is just as sweet.
Give pity and sorrow to those who mourn;
You will gather in dowers again
The scattered seeds from your thought outbourne.
Though the sowing seemed in vain,
For life is the mirror of king and slave;
'Tis just what we are and do;
Then give to the world the best you have,
And the best will come back to you.

Poem

If you think you're beaten you are,
If you think you dare not, you don't;
If you'd like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't.
If you think you'll lose, you're lost—
For out in the world you'll find Success begins with a fellow's will—
It's all in the state of mind.
Full many a race is lost—
Ere ever a step is run,
And many a coward fails,
Ere ever his work begun.
Think big and your deed will grow—
Think small and you'll fall behind;
Think that you can and you will,
It's all in the state of mind.
If you think you're outclassed, you are,
You've got to think high to rise,
You've got to be sure of yourself
Before you can win a prize.
Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man,
But soon or late, the man who wins
Is the fellow who thinks he can.

NIGHT IN WINTER

Did you ever watch the smoke curl high?
On a winters night toward a starlit sky,
While shining down was the moon so round,
On the white and brilliant ground.
O! a winter's night so crisp and cold,
You're so warm inside, though the outside's cold,
'Tis a wonderful thing as you stroll along,
With eyes a-sparkle, in your heart a song.
It may be a night when the snow blows about
But the window panes send their beacons out,
Yes, night in winter is a wonderful thing,
When bundled up in fire to the chin.
Let the weather be stormy or the weather fair,
A night in winter is always rare.
—WINNIE GRAY CURTIS.

Christmas Seals

Cheery Little Stickers Aid In Health Crusade

From Fort Kent in northeast Aroostook to Kittery in the southwest corner of the state, more than 3,000 of the leading men and women of Maine have begun the eighteenth annual sale of Christmas Health Seals and Health Bonds. In all the other states of the Union similar bodies of state and community leaders to the number of approximately half a million also have begun to raise funds in this way for health work in their home states and communities.

These campaigners for "A Healthier Maine" are to be found in every county and in practically every city and town. These local committees include members of business men's organizations such as Kiwanis, Rotary and Lions Clubs, Chambers of Commerce, Women's Clubs, Parent-Teacher Associations, American Legion Auxiliaries, medical and dental societies, school superintendents and teachers, bankers, lawyers, newspaper men, farmers, and other well-to-do spirited men and women. In addition to this great force of adult volunteer workers, it is estimated that more than 45,000 Maine school children will take part in the sale.

The Christmas Health Seals, as usual, are being sold at a penny apiece while the Health Bonds run in denomination of $5 up to $1,000. At the central office of the Maine Public Health Association, it was announced that more than five million of the seals have been distributed to the local chairmen in various sections of the state. These cheery little Christmas stickers are to be used on December letters but the public is asked to remember that they should be placed on the backs of the letters and not on the side used for the address and the usual government stamp. Following the custom of nearly twenty years, the little seals will also be used profusely on Christmas gift packages, on New Year greetings and on many articles of merchandise sold in the stores.

Funds derived from the sale are used in health work in Maine and endorsements of this work have been given by numerous organizations and individuals. Through funds derived from the sale in former years many local public health nurses in various sections of the state have been employed, more than 100,000 Maine boys and girls have been taught habits of health, numerous tuberculosis clinics have been held, fresh air schools have been established, and an intensive state-wide campaign of education on how to conserve health has been conducted.

"The Man Without a Country"

Tourist Seymore

Judge O. N. Towne writes good stuff that appears in the Transcript-Journal of Franklin Falls, N. H., under the heading of "The Rambler." This is what he recently said of a tramp printer, Frank C. Seymore, who is known in many printing offices in this State.

"Probably all the readers of this column are acquainted with the little booklet, 'The Man Without a Country,' by Edward Everett Hale. A man being tried for some offense swore he never again wanted to hear mention of his country. He was given that sentence, placed upon a war vessel and started around the world. Papers which he was allowed to see were first clipped so that no mention of his country should be found therein. Books for his reading were also edited, and no one allowed to mention his country in conversation. Whenever the vessel neared home it was met by another and this man transferred to the outward voyage.

Well, the Rambler was reminded of this by thinking of one who called on him recently. This man is not denied mention of any country, state or place, but he has no country. That is, he has no place where he can vote. There is no place he can call home. He has no relatives. Is not sure where he was born. No old persons' home is open to him. No town, city or county farm is under any obligation to care for him. He has paid no poll tax. He sleeps in barns, in the outdoors when weather permits, and sometimes in the police station. He has a trade, or rather he has what was a trade thirty years ago. Then he could go into a printing office and get work for a few days perhaps long enough so he could have a new suit of clothes, get full of liquor, and then go on. Several times he has had work in the J-T office. Some years ago he was given a job, if he would stick through the month. He did fair work the first few days, then it was a bum job, and in less than two weeks he said he must go.

Since that time, so far as the Rambler knows, he has been going. When in the office last month he was a pitiful looking object. Asked what he was going to do this winter, he replied, 'I don't know, sir.' For the last fifty years no printer has been allowed to go out of Franklin hungry, if the Rambler knew it. This man has been helped three times during the past year. He also gets something from some of the boys in the office, and then he passes on. He was down and would have been out, if it was possible, on this trip. He had fared hard on a trip from Vermont. Was going south, but if the cold weather does not get him he will turn up again in the spring. He is the last of some half dozen of his class who tramped New England forty or more years ago.

The Rambler does not remember all of them, but there was one called Demick, another who went by the name of 'Shorty.' This one gives his name as Frank Seymore. Before the 18th amendment he would spend money for liquor before he would buy food. In those days the Rambler always gave him an order on a local restaurant. In more than one instance he asked that the food might be charged, but not eaten, and he have the cash.

The Rambler learned an interesting thing about Seymore recently. Athletic coach Charles A. Burnham of the Franklin Schools was going by auto to Connecticut one day last summer. Near the Massachusetts line he saw a man walking. Looking him over he decided it would be safe to give him a ride. The man wanted it all right, and asked if he could ride to Ayer Junction. In course of conversation he learned that Mr. Burnham was from Franklin. The tramp said he knew the 'Judge' in Franklin. The ride did not stop at Ayer Junction, but Mr. Burnham carried him through to Middletown, Conn. Probably it did not make any difference where he stopped, he had no destination, no abiding place. One town was as good as another, one state as much home as any other. He is a man, living in the best country and yet not of it. 'A man without a country.'

Tourist Seymore has been coming to this office for years. Last year we were skipped and we concluded he had passed over the divide and joined the ranks on the other side. The above item shows our suspicion was unfounded and that he is living and may visit us again.

Many is the time he has worked a short spell in our office. We recall his helping through the Christmas rush of advertising. Doing exactly as he agreed though visibly chafing under the restraint.

The edition was off the press and it was within a half-hour of closing time. The press stopped and Frank came in, saying: 'I've done exactly as I agreed, give me the money and I'll be going.'

It was dark and cold and the snow was falling. He hastily rolled the bills into a wad, apparently without counting, and hid them away on his person, backed out of the door into the storm and darkness.

He did not go to his boarding place—where he went we know not. He vanished in the night time and storm.

Another time he arrived in the rain, drenched to the skin, shivering with cold, stockinged and almost without shoes. He wanted work; to get warm and sleep a bit.

We did as requested and perhaps more, gave clothes, shoes and a little money, and allowed him to fit his eyes to glasses out of the office pile of spectacles. He was going to Mont Chases, Bryant Pond, where they had a big job of work. We allowed him to depart the next day after the storm ceased.

One hot August day in Laconia, N. H., we met him in the street. He knew us and was over pleased at the meeting. He wanted a dinner and some work. We took him to a restaurant, bought a regular dinner and told him to go into the Democrat office in that town by one o'clock and go to work. We warned him that Mr. Brown of the office would say they didn't need him but that makes no difference—'go in and go to work and tell him that the Big Boss you met on the street you sent in.' This he did.

Later in the afternoon we called at the office and was greeted by Mr. Vaughn, the editor thusly: 'What in hell did you send Frank Seymore into this office for?'

'Because Mr. Brown, your foreman, said he was short for help this forenoon and I wanted to help you out,' was the reply.

'Yes,' said Vaughn, 'Seymore is good until he has 'a call to the road' and the last time he worked here I told

LOCAL HOME PAPER NEEDED

As Paul informed us, Bill met a friend from home after having been away far six weeks and inquired of him as to the news while he had been away.

His friend replied, "Nothing of importance has happened, but I do remember that your dog died while you have been gone."

"My dog died," replied Bill, "what killed him?"

"Oh he ate some burnt horse flesh."

"Where did he get that?"

"Oh yes, there another little thing your barn caught on fire and burned up all the cows and horses."

"My barn burned! What started the fire in the barn?"

"A spark from the roof of the house."

"Oh, my house burned too."

"Yes."

"How did the house catch on fire?"

"From the window curtains."

"What set the window curtains on fire?"

"Burning candles."

"Why burn candles?"

"They were the candles that were burning around the coffin."

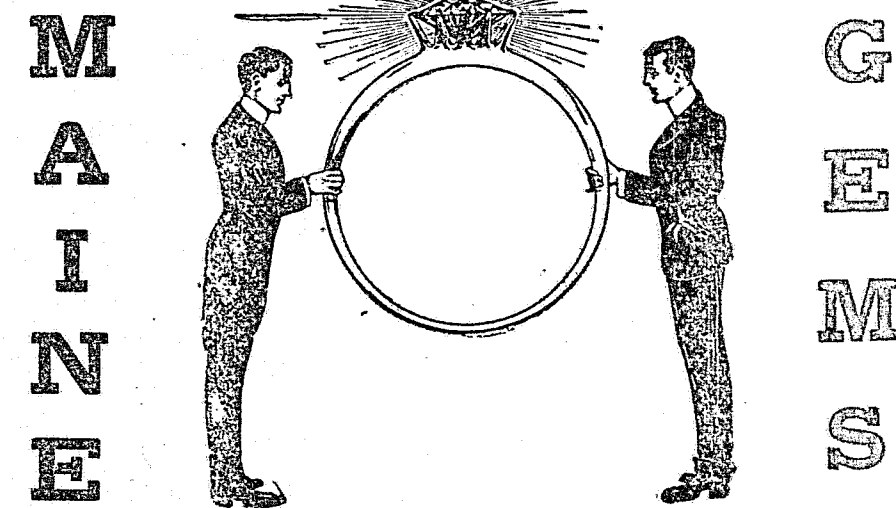

"Who died?"

"Oh, that is another little thing I forgot to tell you."

"Your mother-in-law is dead and buried so you haven't got that to worry about."

"What killed her?"

"The shock of your wife running away with the chauffeur. Outside of that, I guess there isn't any news."

BRIDGTON

Sunday Morning Fire

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Clayton March block early Sunday morning, Nov. 30. In this block were located Staley Bros' Drug Store, J. T. Beard's, J. E. Smith's Clothing and Furnishing Store, Eddie Smith's Sporting Goods and Taxidermist Shop and on the second floor C. H. Mackey's Printing Shop, H. B. Libby & Sons Insurance offices and the dwelling rooms of Arnie Allen. The stores on the first floor sustained a complete loss of stock including a full line of Christmas goods, partly covered by insurance. Mr. Libby is now located in the bank building and Mr. Smith in Chadbourne's Bakery where they will do business temporarily. The others are not as yet located.

The Bridgton High School Athletic Association has plans under way for constructing a winter skating rink which will be for the use of the public. Two locations are in view, each near the center of the village, and as soon as a decision is made work will at once proceed. The committee in charge of the project are students, Louis Gallinari and Wm. Cockburn and Sub-master and Coach Milan G. Herriek.

The Bridgton Farm Bureau held a joint meeting of ladies and gentlemen, Tuesday, Dec. 2, at K. of P. hall in an all day session. Some fifty-four members were present. Home Demonstrating Agent, Mrs. S. D. Connors, of Portland, also Mr. Connors and County Agent for men, W. C. Rowe, were present. The forenoon was devoted to the showing of lantern slides on "Proper Dairy Methods" and in the afternoon the program for 1925 was arranged. Dinner was served at noon. The next meeting will be on Feb. 10, at which time Basketry will be taken up, and for three consecutive days early in March a public Dressmaking School will be run.

The B. P. W. Club held its monthly supper and business meeting Tuesday evening, Dec. 2, at Moose Hall. Mrs. Anna Sanborn, Mrs. Harriet Jones, Mrs. Hattie Mabry and Mrs. Dona Staley were voted into membership at this meeting. It was voted to have Gentlemen's Night" on Tuesday evening, Dec. 16, at which time there will be a Christmas Tree and a social evening.

The Junior class of Bridgton High School held a Thanksgiving Ball at Moose Hall, Friday evening, Nov. 28, at which a large crowd attended. Old and new dances were enjoyed with music by Norton's popular orchestra and refreshments were served. The chaperones were Judge and Mrs. J. Bennett Pike, Mr. and Mrs. Stillman Richardson, Mrs. David Embeck and Sub-master Milan G. Herriek. At the Congregational church, Sunday evening, Nov. 30, there was a most impressive address by Supt. of Schools, Guy L. Monk on "The Benefits to be Derived from a Parent-Teachers' Association." This, it is hoped, is a preliminary to the forming of such an organization in Bridgton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Goodridge spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Bridgton at the home of Mrs. Goodridge's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hamblen.

Old age has one fault. So often the aged think they have a perfect right to make younger people miserable by eternally criticizing.

Every person, during these peculiar times, should be more careful, a little more considerate, and a little more conservative.

Bless the Lord, O my soul, and forget not all his benefits: who redeemeth thy life from destruction: who crowneth thee with loving-kindness and tender mercies.

GREENWOOD

Rowe Hill

Glyde Dunham brought in a fine deer before the law went on.

John Bisbee returned to Bryant Pond, Sunday, after spending two weeks at the home of Colby Ring.

Hilda Ring of Bryant Pond spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Clyde Dunham, recently.

Mrs. Newton Bryant and daughter, Winifred, returned, Monday night, Dec. 1, after a few days' visit with relatives at Mechanic Falls and Sumner.

John Bisbee and Murry Ring were in Albany, Nov. 22 and 24.

Owing to the heavy rain on Nov. 23, there was no Sunday School. Last Sunday morning Frank Hayes took his donkey horse sled and carried fourteen to the schoolhouse, giving all their first sleigh ride for the season. It was voted to change the Sunday School hour to 10 a. m.

Thanksgiving was generally observed in the homes. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dunham and son spent the day with Mr. Dunham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Dunham. Edgar Dunham visited his sisters, Mrs. Elsie Cole and Mrs. Gladys Jordan at Locke Mills. Mr. and Mrs. Alpheus Brooks entertained their son, Frank, of South Bethel, their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Noyes, also Mrs. John Howe and little daughter and son, Everett of Bryant Pond. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes had as guests A. N. Cairns and son and Mrs. Sarah Cairns of South Paris, while Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bryant of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ring of Sumner enjoyed the day with Mr. and Mrs. Newton Bryant and family and John Bisbee and Russell McAllister of Bryant Pond made merry at the home of Colby Ring.

School began Dec. 1, after a week's vacation which was spent by Miss Haines, the teacher, at her home on Kimball Hill. During the last of the term hot cocoa was served at noon. Beginning with the new term, hot lunches will be had each day, the pupils bringing the materials which are cooked in the schoolroom. Thanks are due Wesley Ring for his kindness in supplying so many cooking utensils.

LEAST RESISTANCE

Electricity follows the path of least resistance. So does falling water, rushing back to its source, the sea. So does the agile mercury from a broken thermometer, obeying gravity by darting down to the lowest level it can reach.

Man, too, obeys this natural law—follows the path of least resistance. In other words, man inclines to the easiest way.

While it is natural for man to follow the easiest way, his progress comes by taking the more difficult roads, or paths. Progress is not unnatural. But nature makes us pay the price.

We never get anywhere by following the easiest way.

It is easier to sleep on the ground, exposed to the weather. But man, beginning with his first crude hut, on to the luxurious skyscraper apartment house of the modern city, has taken the more difficult way—knowing that effort's reward is worth its price. The comfortable home is well worth the energy expended in getting it and in maintaining it.

Work is not the pleasantest thing in the world, despite the big talk of the platitudes—most of which are written by lazy dawdlers. The philosopher who urges mankind to toil is rarely energetic himself. But that does not lessen the truth and wisdom of his teachings.

Work is not the most enjoyable way of putting in our time. It certainly is not the easiest way—the path of least resistance. Yet we all know that work is what moves us ahead—brings us our easiness and comforts.

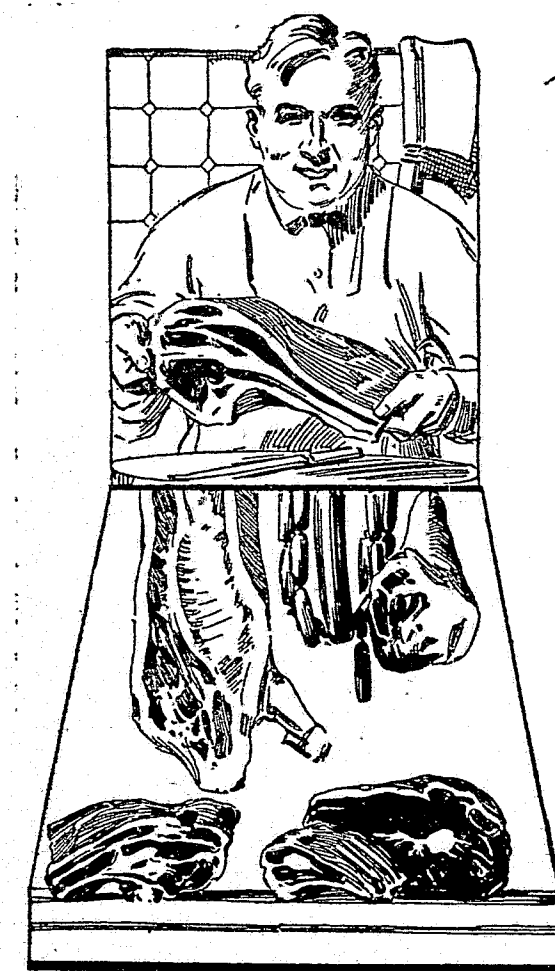

Men are resigned to their lot and are not following the line of least resistance—when they work at their daily tasks.

But when work is over and man relaxes, he slips into the easiest way.

Particularly in his reading matter. He drifts through the entertaining, recreational news—scandal, crime, the unusual. These are the easiest ways—requiring no brain effort. Too bad, that political news and speeches require thought and, accordingly, get little of the attention they deserve. Yet if people every four years gave a bit more thought to national politics, it might lead to easier ways in their job of making a living.—Press Herald.
